

HEW Talks

Health Equity Workshop

Wednesday, February 14, 2018

Human Trafficking

How Healthcare Can Make a Difference

Tiffany Dickey, BSN, RN, FN-CSp., SANE

Cheyenne Regional Medical Center

February 14, 2018

Light lunch: 11:15 am

HEWTalks: 11:30 am to 12:30 pm

Century Link Building

Basement Conference Room

Register online WYTrain course # 1074915

Watch live online: <https://zoom.us/meeting/register/98364df5a76279347c24e00bf0acd2b8>

About the Presenter

Ms. Dickey has worked as a Registered Nurse at Cheyenne Regional Medical Center since 2013. Her prior work experiences include employment at a variety of well-known medical facilities including: Shriners Burns Hospital Boston, Tufts Medical Center (Boston), and Children's Hospital of Wisconsin. She was educated and completed clinical training in Boston, Massachusetts after graduating from Regis College with a Bachelor of Science Degree in Nursing in 2005. Presently, Ms. Dickey has begun compiling research on the impact of violence and trauma on overall health outcomes. Additionally, she has begun graduate work toward her Masters of Science in Nursing Leadership at the University of Colorado, Anschutz School of Nursing.

In her current practice as a Forensic Nurse, SANE, Ms. Dickey has cared for numerous victims of domestic violence, sexual assault, and human trafficking. She is committed to providing a high standard of nursing care and forensic assessment with her main focus being the best care and outcome for each individual patient.

HEWTalks are short, informative presentations organized to educate on health equity topics affecting people in the State of Wyoming.

HEW Talks are organized by the Health Equity Workgroup, Office of Health Equity. For more information contact Lillian Zuniga, lillian.zuniga@wyo.gov.