

Ian Shipps
U.S. Department of Health and Human Services
Office for Civil Rights (OCR)
Supervisory Investigator

Ian Shipps was born and raised in Springfield, Missouri. He graduated from the United States Military Academy at West Point and the University of Colorado Law School. After law school, Ian clerked for a judge at the Colorado Court of Appeals. Ian joined OCR's Rocky Mountain Regional Office in Denver in September 2009, as an investigator; his investigations included enforcement of federal Civil Rights and Health Information Privacy Laws. Currently, Ian serves as a Supervisory Investigator for the Rocky Mountain Regional Office, which requires that he ensure the office serves the public by: (1) enforcing applicable federal laws through investigations and compliance reviews; (2) generating and conducting public outreach opportunities for patients and providers in the Rocky Mountain Region; and (3) supervising investigators and their respective investigations. Ian participates in several outreach events each year on behalf of OCR. He lives in Denver with his spouse, Troy, their three children, and a cat.
