ABOUT COMMUNITY INTERPRETING

Community interpreting is a growing profession that targets health care, education, human and social services. The use of qualified interpreters is promoted and endorsed by federal legislation, hospital accreditation agencies and many state and municipal laws. The Community Interpreter® International is the only national certificate program for community interpreting in the U.S.

About the Instructor:

Ingrid Oseguera, is originally from the land of the Mayans, Guatemala. She loves languages and diversity. She has been an interpreter for the state of Utah during the last 19 years, serving her community as a court, community and medical interpreter. She has taught Bridging the Gap and Community Interpreting as well as Cultural Competence classes. She holds the Spanish Court and Medical certifications (CMI). She is part of the team of Spanish interpreters for the IHC-Utah. She is a member of NAJIT, IMIA, ATA, and UTIA. She is one of NBCMI directors. Ingrid was the President of UTIA from 2014-2018, and also the Spanish Club President at Weber State University. She was member of the Davis Student Involvement Body in 2019.
